Hanger Announces Executive Appointments, Including Promotion of Michael Oros to President of Hanger Clinic

8/29/2022

Austin, Texas, August 29, 2022 – Hanger, Inc. is pleased to announce the promotion of Michael Oros to the role of Hanger Clinic President, along with his appointment to Hanger’s Senior Leadership Team (SLT), effective immediately. Additionally, Hanger Chief Supply Chain Officer Kate Means has been appointed to the SLT. Both leaders will continue to report to Hanger’s Chief Operating Officer Pete Stoy.

“The expansion of these two leaders is a continuation of our plans across all Hanger businesses to focus forward on strategic growth, innovation, and clinical differentiation,” shared Hanger President and Chief Executive Officer Vinit Asar. “We are fortunate to have a leader in Michael with a strong clinical background and commitment to outcomes who will be focused on our critical Patient Care segment. Similarly, the strategic importance of Kate’s role has never been more significant as we invest in supply chain to enable a better clinician and patient experience.”

In his new role, Oros will provide day-to-day management of clinical operations. Oros is an O&P industry veteran with more than 30 years of experience, 24 of which were at Scheck & Siress, where he joined as a lab manager and clinician before serving as Corporate Vice President, President, and eventually Chief Executive Officer. Oros joined Hanger Clinic in 2020 as Regional Vice President through the acquisition of Scheck & Siress, and was promoted to Zone Vice President in January 2021.

Means joined as Hanger’s Chief Supply Chain Officer in January 2022. She has more than 15 years of experience in global supply chain and logistics, specializing in transitioning businesses and leading teams to sustainable excellence. Prior to joining Hanger, Means led McKesson’s 3PL operations, where her team partnered with pharmaceutical manufacturers large and small, providing optimal warehousing and distribution solutions for their products and patients.
